OUR QUALITY CHARTE

Fresh and refined teas selectionned by our sommeliers from the best tea gardens all over the world.

1 The best gardens

LUPICIA's teas are directly sourced from various different tea estates of India, Sri Lanka, China, Taiwan, Japan and other renowned tea producing regions and countries.

2 Safety

All teas have passed strict pesticide inspections to meet the most strict EU food safety standards, as well as Japanese standards.

Our experienced buyers check the quality of tea at the source before it is imported and after it is imported to ensure the quality. LUPICIA has a strict cleaning and filtering process of tea leaves in 6 steps.

This custom--built system allows to remove any foreign objects among tea leaves.

3 Original blends

Our skillful and creative tea blenders take special care creating new blends of tea with dried fruits, flower petals, and spices; which is why we have such a great variety of originally blended teas for you to enjoy.

4 Quality and freshness

The quality of the tea we select to sell in our stores is maintained by our commitment to providing you with the highest quality tea. We maintain this quality by keeping true to our promise to carefully control our production processes.

In order to maintain the quality and freshness of tea, our teas are packaged in 50g nitrogen filled bags. This is because quality of tea will deteriorate rapidly on contact with air.

Our tins (available in two sizes to fit the volume of tea leaves) will help to maintain the freshness of the tea by reducing the contact with air even after the package is opened.

Metal tin 50g

The tin contains a loose tea pack and can be re-used for storage.

IDEAL GREEN TEA FOR JAPAN LOVERS

SENCHA "TAKACHIHO"

Sencha green tea with little astringency and silky flavors. Rich in catechin, good for every day.

A green tea from Kagoshima naturally low bitterness and very easy to drink. It could accompany dishes and pastries. Under the influence of sun rays, amino acid contained in the tea leaves is transformed in catechin. The "niban-cha" (二番茶), or summer harvest is very high in catechin because plantations could have the sun from the very beginning of the Japanese summer. This concentrates more this natural antioxidant.

and in tea bag for service

LUPICA BEST-SELLER

WHITE PEACH OOLONG

SUPERIOR GRADE

The noble sweetness of Japanese white peach, with its fresh and subtle flavor, is justly matched with a superior grade Taiwanese Oolong. An aromatic and refreshing blend that is extremely soft on the palate.

Original and iconic creation of LUPICIA, a best-seller all over the world, this sublime flavored tea with Japanese white peach is based on a high quality Wenshan Bao Zhong type oolong tea from Taiwan. At nose, white peach dominates, so subtly than we could imagine a peach freshly peeled ahead. Floral and delicate perfume of oolong tea matches, at mouth, with the delicacy of the Japanese white peach and its remarkable sweetness.
